

Review: OY! Cleanse & Moisturise and OY! Soft Glow Gradual Tan

By Brenda on Jul 14, 2009

What is it? OY! is the latest addition to the Green People family. The brainchild of Charlotte Vohtz, the founder of Green People. She has collaborated with her 16 year old daughter to produce a range of products that are funkily packaged yet contain a unique blend of certified organic and fairly traded ingredients.

Who is testing it? 2 15 year old teens, who have a penchant for beauty products!

Set Up: Coming in 50ml tubes which are recyclable and non-airfreighted, they are bright and stylish enough to adorn any teenagers beauty bag.

In Use: The teen girls tried out the OY! Cleanse & Moisturise and the OY! Soft Glow Gradual Tan. The OY! Cleanse & Moisturise was a big hit, as it is a 3 in 1 product! You can use it to cleanse your face, use it to take off your make-up (even mascara it took off) or use it as a moisturiser. Which meant when they went out to friends, they just had to take one tube instead of lots of different ones. It also helped save time when doing the beauty routines. They loved the smell and the fact of how easy it was to apply and it did not leave the skin feeling oily. One of the girls has a problem with spots and she noticed an improvement after using the OY! Cleanse and Moisturise. The OY! Soft Glow Gradual Tan also went down very well, as one of the girls is light skinned, so she was able to apply this and appear to have a light tan and not appear paler than her friends, who tan really easily. Again they loved the orange and mandarin smell and the fact that it was easily absorbed into the skin, without being oily.

Any negatives? No complaints from these girls, they loved the products.

Price: The OY! Cleanse & Moisturise is £7.99 for 50ml and the OY! Soft Glow Gradual Tan is £10.99 for 50ml.

Overall: The girls loved the products and their mums loved them even more because they are made from natural ingredients and contain none of the nasties you normally associate with teen beauty products.

Rating: 5/5